Declaration
following the Roundtable on Adaptive Reuse

of Heritage Structures by ARCASIA and V4AF

Architects Regional Council Asia and Architectural Foundation of the 4 Visegrad countries
(Czech Republic, Hungary, Poland, Slovakia)

held in Budapest, 1st of July 2017

It is declared that a duty of every people of the world to preserve culture and cultural diversity. Taking care of heritage is important for our future itself. This idea is the common basis of co-operation between ARCASIA and V4 Architectural Foundation. We declare that it is our common aim and task to share and exchange knowledge on heritage and adaptive reuse of heritage structures including by means of exchange of students and teachers among our universities for knowledge sharing and teacher training, organizing exhibitions and workshops. People should respect not only contemporary but old architecture as well. Not only the age and size is the sold criteria for a heritage building. There is an urgent need for experienced building craftsmanship and a mutual learning between architects and craftsmen is needed. We have to increase sensitivity in society and in governments and among politicians. We have to communicate effectively and properly the value of heritage buildings and even the commercial value for the community.
